

Steelman Cautions Against Too Rapid Increase In Prices

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Reconversion Director John R. Steelman said today a "too rapid price rise" might settle demand for goods and "precipitate an early and severe price collapse, with serious economic and social consequences."

Steelman also spoke out bluntly against a general round of "large" wage increases at this time.

He said these could benefit "only special groups," and in general would do so "at the expense of fellow workers throughout the nation."

Declaring that the national economy is simultaneously "in a position of great promise and of great danger," Steelman set forth "two great problems" which he said America faces:

For the long range, to "maintain our economy at full production and full employment."

In the meantime, to "prevent runaway inflation."

"If prices keep on rising and precipitate a wage-price spiral, business and agriculture will find themselves priced out of the market and into a depression," Steelman asserted in his quarterly report to President Truman and congress.

He added that if on the other hand "we can successfully retard the rise in prices, the backlog of demand for goods and the tremendous pools of savings and current income should reduce the rate at which demand slackens."

Balance of Supply Is Goal

In stating that "our national target" is a "balance of supply with demand at a high level of production and employment," the reconversion chief rejected the suggestion of "some . . . that the best way" to achieve this goal is to "let prices go."

An uncontrolled advance in the general level of prices," Steelman said, "is the worst possible way to bring demand into balance with supply."

Such a course, he added, "can only lead to price collapse."

His report said also:

1. Production of consumer durable goods, such as automobiles, refrigerators and washing machines, is just beginning to hit its stride, but "there is some indication that the boom is off" the market for clothes and other soft goods. The "buy-at-any-price" psychology is "being tempered by some consumer resistance to high prices and poor quality."

2. If consumer or business spending "should fall to extremely high levels—now at, the government must be prepared to readjust its policies to promote an increase in consumption." Public works programs should be "blueprinted and ready to go," and tax other fiscal policy "would require . . . readjustment."

Price Reductions Help

3. To arrest such a decline in spending, "the first and most salutary action could be taken by business itself in reducing prices—wherever possible—without reducing wages."

4. Due to the "weakening" of price and other stabilization controls "we find ourselves at the present time gravely handicapped in our fight against inflation through lack of adequate governmental machinery to cope with it."

5. Although wage rates and straight time hourly earnings have increased since the European war ended, "gross weekly earnings of all employees in manufacturing industries have decreased . . . by approximately 8.5 percent." This means that the average manufacturing worker "earning $47.12 in April, 1945, was taking home in July, 1946, $44.05 per week less."

6. Taking a different stand than President Truman, Steelman said he shortage of meat "will become worse this winter." The President said last week that supply will improve soon, but that despite "the outlook for temporary relief in the next few months, it is hard to pre-

PLAN TWO FUNDS
IF LEVIES PASS

Columbiana county commissioners today forwarded a resolution to the Bureau of Inspection and Supervision of Public Offices in Columbus, asking for authority to establish two new funds for the administration of the anticipated passage of special levies for care and treatment of tuberculosis patients, and for child welfare and the Fairmount Children's home.

In submitting the levies, eight-tenths of a mill for care and treatment of tuberculosis, and four-tenths of a mill for child welfare and Columbiana county's share in the operation of the Fairmount home, the commissioners have expressly asked that the two separate funds be created in order that the amounts, if voted by the public, will be applied for that purpose only.

As the authority of the Bureau of Inspections is necessary by law in setting up new funds, the commissioners forwarded the formal request in order that every detail might be in readiness should the special levies be approved at the general election on Nov. 5.

Von Papen, Fritzsche, Schacht Given Safe Conduct Guarantee

(By Associated Press)

NUERNBERG, Oct. 3.—Franz Von Papen, Hans Fritzsche and Hjalmar Schacht, the three Nazi leaders acquitted by the international military tribunal, will be escorted to the British zone tonight or tomorrow by American military personnel, defense counsel said tonight.

All three will be taken to Hamburg, from whence Schacht will proceed to his home in Schleswig-Holstein, counsel said.

It could not be learned whether the former German financier would be provided with escort after his arrival in Hamburg.

Fritzsche, former deputy propaganda minister, sent his wife to Hamburg yesterday, and expressed hope she would be there when he arrived.

Safe Conduct Guarantee

Anton Pfeiffer, chief denazification officer for Bavaria, announced he had been instructed to give the three a guarantee of "safe conduct," protecting them from arrest by German denazification courts in the American zone.

Defense counsel said the trio would leave at an unannounced time and would follow a secret route.

The protection granted the three from prosecution by courts in the American zone, Pfeiffer stressed, is temporary, covering only their departure from the Nuernberg jail and the zone.

Pfeiffer said he got his instructions from Brig. Gen. Walter Muller, U. S. military governor of Bavaria, who in turn got them from Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, deputy military governor in Berlin.

The Bavarian indicated that the instructions are being handed down to the Nuernberg German police, who already had been armed with orders to arrest all three as soon as they left jail and bring them before the denazification court.

German Chief of Police Wilhelm Stahl, waiting in the military police office, had not yet been informed of the new development. Counsel for the three men heard word unofficially, however, and promptly went into joint conference with U. S. security officers on the subject of transportation.

The acquitted men want to go to the British zone.

His work will be devoted to the farm forestry program in the county as proposed by the Soil Conservation district and the County Agricultural Council. He will be available to assist farmers with their farm woodlot problem. This is the first county in Ohio in which an extension Forester has been assigned, although a number of counties in several other states already are carrying out programs of this kind.

Fractures Heal, Court Upholds $40,000 Claim

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Damages of $40,000 from the New York Central railroad have been awarded to Harry E. Williams, 57, of Bellefontaine, O., for a fractured heel while working for the railroad.

A superior court jury approved Williams' claim after he testified the railroad neglected to light an improperly roofed box car to which he leaped from another car in his duties as a brakeman. Williams wore a heel brace and used a cane to walk, testified his injury prevented his obtaining employment.

NO IMMEDIATE WAR DANGER, BYRNES SAYS

Reaffirms Stalin Statement, But Admits Viewpoints Dangerous

By REILMAN MORIN

PARIS, Oct. 3.—Secretary of State James F. Byrnes declared today that "the conflict of viewpoints among the Allies" is serious, but he echoed a recent statement by Prime Minister Stalin that there is no immediate danger of war.

Byrnes spoke at a luncheon of the American club in Paris.

"After every great war which has been won by the combined efforts of many nations, there has been a conflict among the Allies in the making of peace," Byrnes said in his prepared address. "It would be folly to deny the seriousness of the conflict in viewpoints among the Allies after this war."

"To ignore that conflict or minimize its seriousness will not solve the conflict nor help us along the road to peace."

Unwarranted Charges

"To exaggerate that conflict and its seriousness, on the other hand, only makes more difficult the resolution of the conflict."

"I concur most heartily in the view recently expressed by Generalissimo Stalin that there is no immediate danger of war. I hope that his statement will put an end to the unwarranted charges that any nation or group of nations is seeking to encircle the Soviet Union, or that the responsible leaders of the Soviet Union so believe."

He said the hope that Stalin's words would dispel "the unwarranted charges that the United States is seeking to use its possession of the atomic bomb as a threat of force against the Soviet Union."

However, Byrnes said, American foreign policy will continue to follow a strong line.

"Just because war is not now imminent, we must take the greatest care not to plant the seeds of a future war."

The secretary declared his belief that nobody wants war today, but he said decrying it is not enough.

The major portion of his speech was devoted to his views on the future control of Germany. He amplified in some respects his recent speech at Stuttgart and the 40-year treaty that he proposed last spring for keeping Germany disarmed and demilitarized.

The United States, he said, "is firmly opposed to a struggle for the

40 Attend County Welfare Meeting

LISBON, Oct. 3.—Approximately 40 representatives of Columbiana county welfare groups were in attendance at an all-day session on welfare methods here today with Judge Henry J. Robinson, chief of the Ohio Division of Welfare, as the main speaker.

Robinson outlined the needs of a good welfare system and extended congratulations to this county for its new welfare department, headed by M. A. Curry of East Liverpool.

Robinson said he hoped the people would support the department so that the excellent work could continue.

Mrs. Ruth Kniffer, Harold V. Kind, Ohio welfare department workers, and Curry spoke briefly in the morning session. A luncheon was held at the Methodist church parish at noon and sessions continued this afternoon in courtroom No. 2 in the courthouse.

Curry was in charge of the program.

Help Build A Better Salem

Help build a better Salem!

That is the slogan adopted for the campaign in favor of two bond issues that will face Salem voters Nov. 5—one for $160,000 to build a new city hall, the other for $750,000 to build a new grade school and to provide additions to three of the present buildings.

The new City hall will provide public rest rooms, offices for city officials and departments, including the fire department. The water office will be on the ground floor.

This issue will require a maximum of one mill, possibly less, for 16 years.

The school program is necessary to provide class rooms for large increases in lower grade enrollments which statistics show will start in 1948 and continue to mount until at least 1952.

A new eight-room building is proposed for the northwest section of the city, with four-room additions at McKinley and Prospects schools and a 12-room addition at Reilly. When the latter is completed, Columbia school will be abandoned.

This issue will require not to exceed 2.4 mills, possibly less, for 20 years.

Each issue needs a 65 per cent vote to pass.

U. S. Loses In Attempt To Cut Hungarian Payments To Russia

(By Associated Press)

PARIS, Oct. 3.—A French source said the four power foreign ministers would meet at 9:30 p. m. (3:30 p. m. Eastern Standard time) tonight for a coordinated assault on remaining issues in the peace treaties with Axis satellites.

American officials disclosed British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin conferred for more than an hour this afternoon with Secretary of State Byrnes of the American delegation hotel.

The United States was rebuffed, 7 to 5, by a peace conference commission today in an attempt to slash $100,000,000 from Hungarian reparations to Russia and two other Slav countries, after a Soviet delegate assailed the proposal as an "unfriendly act."

U. S. Department Representative Willard Thorp, who said he presented the amendment in an attempt to save Hungary's economy from collapse, also sought to cut $100,000,000 from the reparations to be paid by Finland.

4-H Club Banquet To Be Held Oct. 9

The annual 4-H club recognition banquet for all advisors and club members, who have completed eight or more years, will be held at the Christian church at Lisbon at 7 p. m. Wednesday, Oct. 9. Awards and achievements will be given.

W. H. Palmer, state 4-H club leader, Ohio State university, will be speaker for the banquet.

James Ewing, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ewing, will be toastmaster. He has been active in club work for eight years and has been advisor for 4-H Gavertown Hustlers for two years.

Miss Esther Jean Mayhew, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Mayhew, will present a report on 4-H leadership camp at Camp Ohio near Utica, which she attended this year. She has been an active club member for eight years. She is a member of Winona Jolly Bunch club. Her activities have included trips to state fair and leadership camp. She entered Mt. Union college this fall as a freshman in arts nursing course.

Miss Marjorie Chaney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Chaney, will present music on the marimba. She has been in club work for nine years. This year she was recreation leader for the Merry Makers club.

Group singing will be led by Miss Betty Stafford, advisor for Bayard Jolly Stitches club for the past three years.

Claims Jap Atom Scientist Now Prisoner of Russians

ATLANTA, Oct. 3.—Japanese scientists who developed and successfully tested an atom bomb three days before the war ended are now prisoners of the Russians in Moscow, the Atlanta Constitution said in a copyrighted story in today's issue.

The author, David Snell, a former reporter for the paper who recently returned from service with the Twenty-Fourth Criminal Investigation detachment operating in Korea, said the Russians had brought pressure on the captured scientists to learn the "atomic know how."

Snell said he obtained his story from a Japanese officer who represented himself as head of counterespionage at Japan's atomic development project at Konan, Korea.

U. S. To End Year In Black—Truman

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—President Truman predicted today that the government will finish the current fiscal year in the black—that is with more income than outgo.

Discussing a Treasury report showing that the government was out of the red in current operations for the first time in years, Mr. Truman was asked if there was any hope of finishing the fiscal year in the black.

He said there is not only hope, but that the government is going to do it.

Told that the last estimate anticipated a deficit of $1,900,000,000, the President said the administration is cutting down expenses by $2,100,000,000.

SECOND PLANE SMASH-UP IN NEWFOUNDLAND

Wives and Children of Soldiers Overseas Are Among Victims

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—An American overseas airlines plane plunged into a western Newfoundland hill early today and first reports indicated all 39 persons aboard were dead.

Six of the passengers were children. Twelve were women.

If all those aboard are dead it will be the worst tragedy in the history of commercial aviation.

An Air France transport captain who flew over the wreckage two hours after the crash said on arrival at New York that the plane burned completely and there was no sign of life nearby.

Doubt Any Survived

Reports to the Coast Guard also said the plane burned and the possibility of any survivors was very remote.

Aboard the giant airliner were 31 passengers and a crew of eight. Many of the women were housewives en route to Europe to join their husbands. The children's ages ranged from three months to eleven years old.

he four engine DC-4 Skymaster was enroute from New York to Berlin and plunged into the side of a rocky hill 10 minutes after it left Stephenville, Nfld., at 3:24 a. m. It left New York yesterday at 10:55 a. m.

The Air France captain, Jacques Charnoz, said he was at Gander, Nfld., 225 miles from the scene of the crash, when it occurred.

"I could see the glow of the explosion before I took off," he said. "After the takeoff, we circled the wreck. The plane hit the side of a hill quite high up and was still smoking."

Plows Into Hill

The light was "poor and I could not identify any part of the plane. I saw a burnt spot on the hillside. It is a fairly wooded hill. I could see no path cut through the trees. The plane probably went straight into the hill."

Earlier reports to the Coast Guard indicated the plane hit one-half mile up the side of the hill and 400 feet from the top of the slope, which is covered with rocks and scrub trees.

It was the second plane tragedy in the Newfoundland wilds in two weeks. On Sept. 18 a Belgian Saboteur airliner crashed near Gander, killing 27 of the 44 aboard.

Stephenville is on the west coast of Newfoundland

Every Man For Himself

Probably the most flagrant move to undermine President Truman in his own party that could have been made occurred last week in connection with the meat fracas.

Powerful political leaders, among them Edward J. Kelley, the Democratic mayor-boss of Chicago, let it be known they were using their personal influence to try to make Mr. Truman change his mind about suspending price controls on meat. They deliberately put the leader of their party in the pillory where he, not they, would have to bear the people's resentment over the meat shortage. Under pressure, they abandoned all pretense of unity on a matter that was supposed to represent a party policy and handed the hot potato to Mr. Truman.

They know—and Mr. Truman knows—that unless the Democratic machines can produce majorities in big cities this year the party's long reign over Congress is through. The 1946 election might easily turn on the issue of meat; specifically, its availability on election day. Mr. Truman knows that. Why, then, has he refused to give his party bosses what they think they need—a glut of held-back meat?

Perhaps under the every-man-for-himself rule which is now fashionable in the Democratic party, Mr. Truman is thinking of his own political problem in 1948. A glut of meat now would mean another shortage later. It would be a postponement of the ultimate solution, which is to get meat back into the markets in an orderly manner at a price consumers can afford. Or perhaps Mr. Truman is getting fed up with the arduous and uncertain business of trying to play ball with politicians who aren't above throwing the ball at his head when he isn't looking.

New Perspectives

Gen. De Gaulle expresses a provocative idea about the United States in his warning that France must be strong to maintain its independence in a struggle between the East and West. Russia, he said, confronts a young America which has just discovered the "perspectives of a warrior power."

Americans must disagree with this. They do not have the perspectives of a warrior power. Rather, they have the perspectives of a police power. That is, Americans have been taught that international security cannot be maintained by resolutions and treaties; they are mentally prepared, therefore, to maintain international security whenever necessary by military means.

But they do not think of military means as the means of a warrior state, forcing its way by fear, terror and aggression. They think of arms as a last resort—the call for the police when everything else has failed. Naturally, no European can understand this point of view. De Gaulle is as puzzled by it as Hitler was and, before Hitler, Kaiser William, who also was certain that the United States wouldn't fight because it had nothing to gain. What De Gaulle thinks is a new perspective is really an old perspective; it has been the key to a decision in two world wars and will be the key to a decision in the next one, if a next one comes. That, in a nutshell, is what the argument's about—whether the United States can be talked out of thinking of itself as a police power.

Second Guessers

Admiral Ernest J. King demands that the Senate war investigating committee withdraw its criticism of his part in the Canal project. With the explanation that he should not be held individually responsible for a joint decision, Admiral King claims he has been wronged both technically and morally by a committee statement implying that he went over the head of the secretary of the navy to support the Canal project. The decision, he says, was not his own but that of the joint chiefs of staff.

More is at stake in this than one admiral's good name and personal pride. The eternal issue between the second-guessers and first-doers is being argued again. The men who fought and won a war with a mandate from the people to do whatever was necessary are being pilloried by other men who hope to make political capital out of second-guessing them. The admirals, generals and all the men who ran the war made mistakes—a million of them. So did the representatives, senators and the assorted civilians who cheered them on. If the idea is to prove that mistakes were made, why not have some investigations of the bung guesses and bonehead decisions made by legislature too?

No Surprise

Our Ambassador to Yugoslavia, Mr. Patterson, expresses himself as being shocked at the action of the Belgrade government in closing down the American State Department's information service in the Yugoslav capital. Actually, the move was predictable and should surprise and shock no one.

The American information program was charged with inciting Yugoslavs to "open treason," apparently because it went counter to the official propaganda line of the government. This charge, too, was one that might readily have been expected.

Last winter three eminent journalists toured Europe and reported back on the state of our overseas information program at that time. One of the committee, Ralph McGill, editor of the Atlanta Constitution, pointed out that we needed government news to counteract "interpretation" of commercial news dispatches from America by other governments.

Apparently this need was met. And our naive declaration that this was an "information" rather than a "propaganda" service—while perhaps a true one—was scarcely enough to convince a government which neither practices nor believes in the American definition of a free press.

The unhappy fate of our information bureau in Yugoslavia points up the inevitable waste of money and effort on a pious governmental project before any international agreement had been reached on free access to and exchange of news throughout the world.

For Friday, October 4

ALTHOUGH there are excellent presages for a smooth, easy and happy advance upon desired hopes and wishes, in relation to business, finance, professional, family and affectional affiliations, yet there are certain perplexities which the mind may not be able to clearly grasp or manipulate. These are likely to keep things "at sixes and sevens," with the probable slowing down of aggressive action because of the uncertainty.

Those whose birthday it is have fair promise of progress in business, finance and industry, as well as flourishing conditions in home, professional, social and romantic alliances. These, however, may present problems and complications, in which it may be difficult to arrive at conclusions which might serve the affairs away from hazardous developments.

Shun discord, impulsive or rash words and deeds, and seek diversion in safe and happier channels.

A child born on this day has fair promise of a happy and successful life if it will suppress selfish, impetuous and reckless behavior, and analyze important decisions.

Even when you're past your prime you can always prime yourself for the future.

Airplane stunt artists who think there are no thrills left should take a ride in some of our taxis.

An Oregon mechanic, seeking to trace noises in the engine, lifted the hood of an auto and out flew a chicken. Maybe the spark plugs were fowled.

A writer says too many people think too much of their bank rolls. Well, there's no harm in reminiscing once in a while.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Energies That Are Misused

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

IF you drive your car with the brakes on and the engine isn't running, the power is there, but it isn't being intelligently used. So it is with mental patients, those fatigued, nervous people who develop conditions variously known as neuroses and psychoses, through failure to adjust properly to normal living. Such people are not lacking in energy, but their energies are gravely misdirected.

They are, as it were, driving through life with the brakes on and consequently becoming more and more inefficient. They complain and worry, quarrel, neglect their work, drink and may even resort to drug-taking. Often enough, they avoid the doctor until they have so dissipated their energies in these ways that they are doing only about one-fifth of the real work of which they are capable.

Normal Channels

According to Dr. Karl Menninger of Topeka, Kansas, to cure these people it is necessary to turn their blocked or wasted energy into normal channels.

Formerly, the treatment of such patients involved plenty of rest. For example, the patients were kept in bed. Visitors, reading and writing were forbidden. In some cases the patient was told to take a long vacation.

Dr. Menninger believes that such treatment is not only valueless but actually harmful. If the patient is deprived of the proper physical and mental activities, his energy is turned inward which has a definitely harmful effect. He has noted that soldiers may emerge from a battle in fair condition but break down during the period of inactivity before the next action.

The proper treatment includes teaching the patient the correct methods of work, play and rest. Work, rest and education are adapted to the individual's needs and abilities.

Tub Baths

This does not mean to say that rest, if properly employed, does not do good. If the patient is disturbed mentally to a great extent, drugs which produce sleep may be employed. Prolonged tub baths and wet sheet packs are also useful.

Complete rest for a short time may be helpful if there is a great deal of anxiety, fear and other symptoms brought on by sudden, extreme mental and physical strain. Even in such cases, companionship and planned activities are of equal value to rest.

Dr. Menninger stresses that the best way of preventing invalidism in discharged service men is to give them positive assurance of employment.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

PLAN MEAT PROBE IN PENNSYLVANIA

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 3.—Gov. Edward Martin today ordered Miss Horst, state secretary of agriculture, to make "a complete and immediate survey of all available meat supplies in Pennsylvania."

The governor directed Horst to include in his report "the cause of the present meat shortage, as developed in the survey."

"Our growing children, working men, hospitals and institutions must have meat," Martin said in a statement.

"If meat is being hoarded, we want to know about it and if there is anything the state of Pennsylvania can do to correct the present situation, it will be done."

In Philadelphia, Rep. Michael J. Bradley (D-Pa.) called on Mayor Bernard Samuel to begin an inventory of packing houses and cold storage warehouses in an effort to find the meat shortage, declaring:

"There is a relationship between meat packers and the meat famine which smacks of conspiracy against the public."

Mrs. Harry Loria was elected president when the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. James A. Scott, S. Lincoln ave. Other officers are: Vice president, Mrs. Fred Capel; recording secretary, Mrs. R. R. Cuthbert; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Lester Baldinger; treasurer, Miss Esther Stewart; spiritual life, Mrs. Paul Sutherland; missionary education and service, Mrs. White-leather; Christian social relations, Mrs. John Sharp; local church activities, Mrs. George Stapleton; student work, Mrs. Betty Lewis Harrell; youth work, Mrs. J. L. Getz and Mrs. E. K. Cunningham; children's work, Mrs. Russell Moore and Mrs. R. A. Coy; supply work, Mrs. Michael Schuller; literature and publications, Mrs. Walter Bailey; status of women, Mrs. Nelson Bailey.

Program Presented

The program, in charge of Group 3, included devotions, Mrs. L. B. Harris, who used as her topic, "Fill Us With Thy Peace". Mrs. F. L. Hendricks read a paper on the history of India. Lunch was served by the membership and fellowship committees.

The Northeastern Ohio district conference to be held in East Liverpool, Oct. 19, was discussed. Mrs. Pooler, noted Detroit psychologist, will be the speaker. All those desiring transportation should call Mrs. Loria, 3337.

The next meeting will be held

Nov. 6 at the church with Miss Minnie Britzinger, returned missionary, speaking on India. All missionary groups of the city are welcome.

Alice Louise Miller Feted At Party

Miss Alice Louise Miller, bride-elect of Joseph Harp, was honored at a miscellaneous shower Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. William Adams, W. Ninth st.

An attractive color scheme of blue and pink was used in the decorations which included streamers leading to a table where the gifts were arranged. The centerpiece was a miniature doll carrying an umbrella with a shower effect overhead. Lunch was served for the 25 guests.

Game prizes were awarded to Mrs. Margaret Steiner, Mrs. Clem Knowles, Mrs. Carl Zimmerman, Mrs. William Boso, Mrs. Richard Sherman and Miss Geraldine Baker.

Miss Miller, daughter of Mrs. Lester Miller, W. Ninth st., and Mr. Harp, son of Mrs. Joseph Harp of Woodland ave., will be married at 10:30 a. m. Saturday, Oct. 19, at St. Paul's Catholic church. Open church will be observed.

Program Is Enjoyed By Women of Moose

The Women of the Moose met Wednesday night when Evelyn Olliver conducted the Mooseheart alumni chapter night program and initiation.

Pictures, dealing with tuberculosis prevention were shown by Archie Dalton of the Columbiana County Public Health league. Mrs. Mary Perry won a prize.

The next meeting will be held on Oct. 16 with a coverdish supper at 6:30.

Peace on the Picket Line

Told by authorities that there would be no arrests and no interference as long as they kept moving, strikers at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Studios in Culver City, Calif., organized this parade before the entrance, when 290 strikers joined the march. The men wore parts of their service uniforms without insignia. Deputies stood by and even saluted when faced with the strikers' flags.

Dr. and Mrs. Gonzales Given Farewell Party

Mrs. Mabel Tinsley of E. State st. entertained at a farewell party at her home Wednesday evening in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Jose Gonzales, who will leave Sunday for Mexico.

Ten guests attended. Lunch was served.

John Auld and daughter, Miss Elma Auld, of E. Seventh st. have returned from Rice Lake, Canada, where they vacationed.

dict what may happen in the spring.

Clothing Situation

7. Clothing supply is "rapidly increasing, but still not fast enough to satisfy the demand for such items as men's shirts and suits." Moreover, there is "danger that prices of cotton cloth and apparel may get out of reach of the average consumer."

By June, Steelman reported, clothing costs were 23 percent above those of May, 1943. OPA, he added, expects a further increase of at least 10 percent during the latter half of this year.

8. The housing shortage is "so acute" that even if this year's program were to succeed (it's behind schedule), "there still will be as many people in need of housing at the beginning of 1947 as there were on Jan. 1, 1946."

9. The number of persons with jobs at present—58,000,000—is "the greatest in history." The number of people looking for jobs in August—2,000,000—"is probably the smallest percentage of our peacetime labor force out of jobs at any time since we became an industrial nation."

10. But the number of veterans unemployed, remains stubbornly at a level of about 900,000, or nearly half of the total number of unemployed in the country today.

11. Production "can well rise above current levels before general manpower shortages begin to curb output." Civilian Production Administrator John D. Small said last week the only way to achieve any further substantial increase in the flow of consumer goods would be through a longer work-week.

Declaring that "stabilization has now become everybody's business," Steelman added that "unless each group can subordinate its own short-term selfish interests to the long-time interests of us all it is problematical how successful the government itself can be."

AAA FARM PROGRAM NEWS

Good permanent pastures can play an important part in the conservation plans of the Columbiana county farmers, says Clifford F. Shaw, chairman of the County Agricultural Conservation association committee.

These pastures conserve both soil and water and provide large amounts of feed for livestock, he said. The pasture cover holds the soil and retards water runoff, allowing the ground more time to soak it up. Pastures, if good, will feed more livestock and less grain will be required. This will decrease the cost of livestock production.

The agricultural conservation program pays a part of farmers' cost of reseeding worn-out land and planting new pastures. Farmers gain from the livestock fed off this land and the Government cooperates in saving more of the nation's top soil. This finally adds up to more and better good and improved health for everybody, the chairman added.

Pastures can be given a good start this fall, Shaw declares. Farmers who have signed up for but have not completed other practices and who want to switch to pasture seeding should get in touch with the county ACA office at Lisbon immediately.

Under the Agricultural Conservation program the local AAA committee was allocated $100,170 to be used in assisting the farmers of Columbiana county in carrying out needed conservation work on their farms this year. It has been the earnest endeavor of the county committee, said Chairman Shaw, to fully utilize this money in bringing to the county as a whole the maximum of soil conservation.

On this basis, some 80 per cent of our farmers requested and received approval for some type of assistance that can be rendered under the provisions of our program. A recent check of performance shows 50 per cent of this work has been done and that another 50 per cent of the work should be accomplished in the near future.

Columbiana Maps Routes For Trucks

COLUMBIANA, Oct. 3 —General truck traffic in Columbiana will probably be limited largely to main thoroughfares carrying state route traffic, according to the trend of opinion in a further discussion of the matter at the meeting of city council Tuesday evening.

Council decided to buy trees to help the appearance of the municipal dump on the Redpath farm on Route 14. Members of council will make an inspection of the dump Sunday afternoon to see what other steps may be taken to improve its appearance. J. C. Redding is custodian of the dump. Council is in the market to buy a small building for his accommodation.

An ordinance was passed to purchase of Dick Fitzpatrick for $650 the land for the extension of Friend st. into the cemetery to afford an exit for funerals on account of the traffic hazard at the Park ave. entrance.

There was further discussion of speeding on Columbiana streets. During September, there were 24 arrests for traffic violations.

Speaks To Kiwanis

Clark Marshall, Leetonia jeweler, a veteran of 27 years as a Kiwanis member, was the speaker at the meeting of the Columbiana Kiwanis club at Oakdale Gardens Monday evening.

He spoke on "The Great Wonder of the Mechanical Age—the Watch." He said the Swiss have been first in watch-making, having been the originators and first to make the wrist watch, the water-proof watch, and the self-winding watch. Only four factories in the United States are making jeweled watches at this time, he said.

Rev. Herbert A. Smith had as his guest his son, Heather Smith of Steubenville. E. P. Funkhouser provided the attendance prize, which was awarded Robert Walter.

President Russell Lindsay conducted a business session at a meeting of the Rotary club at Valley Golf club Monday evening. He reported that the club vice president, Hiram McGrath, had undergone during the day an operation for appendicitis in Salem City hospital. McGrath is office manager at the Columbiana Pump Co.'s plant.

Visitors were Homer Dow of El Cajon, Calif., J. M. Chambers of Youngstown, and four from Salem, W. H. Matthews, J. R. Stiver, J. A. Harwood and George Perrault.

Dr. Lee Bookwalter is the club program chairman for October.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

HELP NEEDED AT HOME

Editor, The News:

I've been wondering if our United States might interest some country to adopt a policy of some kind towards our country.

It seems that our government is more interested in our foreign policy than our own troubles, which are becoming more acute than the troubles of the countries over there. Anyway our country is showing a good example as to how a democracy should not be run. Strikes! Shortages in a country of plenty! Political party controversy! Work

ELLIOTT SAYS PEACE HIS FATHER SOUGHT IS RAPIDLY BEING LOST

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
(Covered President Roosevelt for 10 Years)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3 — Elliott says in a book out today that his father, the late President, put that it "is fast being lost." He says the road charter by Franklin D. Roosevelt "has been broken" — and deliberately broken.

Where mentioning President Truman, Elliott strews the blame on the "government," the "stripped" career men in the state department whom he says his father trusted.

"Reactionaries" in the army officers interested in their professional futures and the press that heroically condoned freedom of irresponsibility was the United States and Britain not Russia, Elliott says, who first shook the mailed fist.

He contends that a "small group" of men in London and Washington are anxious to create a foster an atmosphere of war against the Russians.

Yet, says the son of FDR, the British-American-Russian unity which won the war is the keystone of peace. He adds:

Franklin Roosevelt chiseled that keystone and set it in place; a great many men have since been chipping away at it, hoping that it will next moment crumble."

Cites Intimacies
Elliott cites as his qualifications for speaking up the fact that he was official aide and intimate companion to his father at some of the major top-level wartime conferences.

"I knew what conditions he predicted for the structure of world peace," he says. "I knew what conversations led to them; I knew of the bargains and the promises."

"And I have seen the promises violated, and the conditions summarily and cynically disregarded, and the structure of peace disavowed."

"That is why I write this book." The book is called "As He Saw It." In it, Elliott depicts himself at the international conferences, as errand boy, doorkeeper, bartender and idle-hour confidant of the President.

He tells of frequent clashes between his father and Winston Churchill, then British prime minister, over wartime strategy and the postwar fate of colonial peoples. He says his father took an immediate liking to Prime Minister Stalin and got along well with him.

He says the President served as mediator between Churchill and Stalin, but he gives no instance in which Mr. Roosevelt sided with the Britisher against the Russian. In the only cases mentioned it was the other way around.

Farmland Terraces Pay Dividends

Cropland terraces save water and conserve soil, Chairman Clifford F. Shaw, of the Columbiana County Agricultural Conservation association committee says. In the end, this means more and better food and improved health for all.

Farmers cooperating with the agricultural conservation program can receive assistance in terracing their farms. Experiments prove that terraced land yields more and reduces water erosion. Properly constructed terraces slow water runoff and hold it on the land where it can be used by growing crops during the dry period of the year.

Recognizing the extensive need for terraces and the expense of their construction, the federal conservation program helps farmers to pay part of the costs.

To make terraced fields completely successful, the USDA also cooperates with farmers in establishing and maintaining other good conservation measures. These include sound crop rotations, strip cropping, cover crops, and contour tillage.

Southern states have led in the use of this practice and in 1944 over 1,500,000 acres of the 1,719,000 acres terraced under the program were in the South.

The committee recommends this practice as a means to prevent soil washing. Farmers may still terrace under the 1946 program and if they wish to do so, should contact the county office in Lisbon immediately.

Growing Volcano
Paricutin, Mexican volcano born less than four years ago in a cornfield, is now more than 2000 feet high, and still growing. Its lava flow has covered towns more than four miles away.

Worn kingpins, steering knuckles, or tires, are frequent causes of shimmying.

LEETONIA FIREMEN HALT HOME BLAZE

LEETONIA, Oct. 3.—The fire department was called to the Anthony Cimminelli home, Oak st. Wednesday afternoon to extinguish a fire caused by a defective chimney.

Siding and studding on the south side of the house were damaged. Other damage was from smoke.

Our Community club was entertained at the home of Mrs. Charles Steltz Wednesday with Mrs. Ada Halverstadt and Mrs. Allan Haller associate hostesses. A coverdish dinner was served.

Mrs. Mary Pregener has returned to her home after spending the summer at Canfield.

Stuebenville Station Is Sued by Music Concerns

COLUMBUS, Oct. 3.—Radio Station WSTV of Stuebenville, today was sued in Federal court for $2,250 for copyright infringement by seven New York music publishing concerns.

The firms charged the station broadcast nine copyrighted songs without permission of the publishers and asked at least $250 for each infringement.

Firms suing were: Harms, Inc., Irving Berlin Music Co., Santly-Joy, Inc., M. Whitmark & Sons, Burke & Van Heusen, Inc., Bourne, Inc., and Mills Music, Inc.

Stubby Gordon, Orchestra Director, Is Gun Victim

CLEVELAND, Oct. 3.—Lee C. (Stubby) Gordon, former musical director of radio station WTAM and nationally known dance orchestra leader, died today in a hospital after being found in his suburban Lakewood home with a 22 caliber bullet wound in the head, police reported.

A former leader of Phil Spitalny's "jazz" band, Gordon resigned as WTAM director a month ago because of ill health. He was found early today by his wife, Margaret, in the kitchen of his home with a pistol near his body. He died a few minutes after being taken to a hospital.

Mrs. Gordon told police her husband had been "worrying and on edge" and had "paced the floor" until 5:30 a. m. today.

Killed By Freight Train

LANCASTER, Oct. 3.—Orville C. Leckrone, 79, died in a hospital last night of injuries received as his car struck a moving Pennsylvania freight train.

THIS MAY BE A CHILD'S LAST PHOTO

THE DOCTOR SAID to the photographer: "The child may not live more than 36 hours." He was referring to Arthur Joseph Kees, aged 3, who had just been sent home from a Philadelphia hospital—a victim of leukemia. Jimmy, 9, Arthur's brother, knew something was wrong and tried to comfort him. The lensman took a picture. Here it is. (International)

Pays Quarter to Church, Plus Compound Interest

NEWPORT, Ky., Oct. 3.—Fifty years ago Mrs. Lydia Simpkinson overlooked a quarter in returning fund drive collections to the York Street Congregational church.

But today the church had that very quarter, a $50 self-imposed "penalty for keeping it all these years" and $13.65 representing compound interest at eight per cent.

Mrs. Simpkinson, now a 70-year-old resident of Pasadena, Calif., mailed the money to Rev. Charles J. Schauffuss, pastor of the church, with this explanation: "In 1896 she directed a group of 60 girls in distributing church fund drive cards slotted for quarter contributions. She saved the cards, thinking they might be used in later campaigns. When she went west to New Mexico and later California, the cards were in a trunk that went along."

Recently she found them and pulled one out of the stack. There in the card's slot was a quarter.

Kent Enrollment Up

KENT, Oct. 3.—Kent State university has an all-time high enrollment of 4,794 students, Registrar E. C. Stophor reported today.

Farmers Haul Water

YOUNGSTOWN, Oct. 3.—Some farmers in eastern Ohio have begun hauling water for their livestock as stored supplies have run low and pastures are drying up. During the past three months the rainfall deficiency has reached 428 inches.

Industrial plants in the Mahoning valley are protected by reservoirs at Milton, Berlin and Mosquito lakes.

Boy, 9, Dies of Burns

CLEVELAND, Oct. 9.—When John Staller, 9, and his brother Matthew, 10, found a roll of discarded film in a vacant lot, John decided to see how fast it would burn, and applied a match.

The flaring film ignited the boy's clothing and inflicted severe burns, causing his death in a hospital last night.

Must Die In Chair

TOLEDO, Oct. 3.—A sentence of death in the electric chair was imposed yesterday on Kenneth Salter, 31, who two weeks ago was convicted of the rape and chloroform murder of Barbara Dunn, 11. Common Pleas Judge John M. McCabe passed sentence after an appeal for a new trial was denied.

control of Germany which would gain give Germany the power to divide and conquer.

For that reason, he continued, he proposed the 40-year treaty among the four major powers, a pact which could be renewed according to the necessities of peace and security at the time when it expired.

This plan, he said, would insure that "the Ruhr could never become the arsenal of Germany or the arsenal of Europe."

With this remark, Byrnes was answering French fears about the Ruhr and advancing a program different from the French one for internationalizing the area.

The occupation of Germany should be continued, he said, until disarmament and demilitarization is accepted by whatever German government emerges. And, he reiterated, "so long as there is an armed force of the United States will be in the army of occupation."

Infantrymen, however, are not enough to safeguard the situation as Germany restores her industries, Byrnes declared.

"To keep watch over war potential in this industrial area, engineers are more important than infantry."

WOMEN BUILDING THEIR OWN HOME

WANTING a home of their own, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gurski, Lemont, Ill., bought a large plot in the country and decided to build a house on it. Cost of labor being high, the womenfolk of the family set about constructing a brick and cement-block house. At work are Mrs. Gurski (center), Mrs. J. Zack, on wall, and Mrs. J. Rauba. OBITUARY

KENNETH DUANE RITCHIE

Mrs. Stella Ritchie of 683 S. Union ave. received word Tuesday night of the sudden death of her 14-year-old grandson, Kenneth Duane Ritchie of Manila, Iowa.

The youth died of a heart attack at noon Tuesday while on a school playground.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Ritchie, former residents of Salem.

He came to Salem in April and finished seventh grade at the Fourth Street school, returning to Iowa in August to make his home.

Surviving are his parents; one brother, Vernon; a sister, LaRoice, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Browman of Manila, and Mrs. Stella Ritchie of Salem.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon in Manila.

MRS. TIRZAH RENKENBERGER

COLUMBIANA, Oct. 3.—Mrs. Agnes Renkenberger, 84, widow of Tirzah A. Renkenberger, was found dead this morning at the Anglemeyer rest home.

Born May 23, 1862, in Allegheny county, Pa., she was the daughter of Charles and Elizabeth West. She spent her entire life in Columbiana and was a member of the Catholic church in Leetonia. Her husband, Tirzah A. Zimmerman, died Jan. 13, 1944.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Wesley Burkhardt of Columbiana, Mrs. Nell Kelley of Youngstown and Mrs. Albert G. Moff of Canfield; two sons, Berttram A. Renkenberger of Athens and Tirzah A. Renkenberger, Jr., of Butler, Pa.; six grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Harvey Bair of East Lewistown; and two brothers, Oliver C. West of Seattle, Wash., and Charles L. West of Chicago.

Funeral service will be held at 9 a. m. Saturday at St. Patrick's church in Leetonia, in charge of

Brothers Killed When Plane Crashes Near Home

TROY, Oct. 3.—Arthur Bridges, 21, and his brother Joseph, 15, were killed late yesterday in the crash of a small airplane with a few miles of their home at nearby Fletcher.

Arthur Bridges was piloting the plane, which he had considered buying. It fell and burned in a soybean field on the farm of Harley Pogue, six miles northeast of here.

Household Hints

Dry beans and peas, onions and dried hot peppers need dry but cool storage.

One manufacturer is preparing to mass produce an upright home freezer that occupies no more floor space than a refrigerator. It will be available early in 1947.

A new type ironing and appliance cord coils itself into the correct length when in use, thereby eliminating tangling. This will be available soon.

Dry crocheted or knitted hats over a strainer of the proper size. While shaping the hat, this allows air to circulate for quick drying.

Placing a clean sheet on the floor under your ironing board saves damp trailing pieces from picking up dust.

Cabbage and turnips should be stored out of the house. If kept in the cellar, their odors will penetrate the rest of the house.

Shifts In Salem And Leetonia Lineups Due As Teams Make Pre-Game Preparations

"NATURAL" SLATED FRIDAY AS EAST PALESTINE AND LISBON COMPARE TALENTS

A football natural between two Columbiana county rivals and Tri-County league championship contenders is slated for East Palestine's Senior stadium Friday night when Howard Parker's Bulldogs clash with Edwin "Bud" Bucher's Lisbon Blue Devils.

The chips are really down on this contest. In the first place the two outfits are natural rivals over the years, secondly, both are undefeated so far this year and thirdly, the Tri-County league champion may well be decided.

A huge crowd—possibly the largest ever to see a game in East Palestine—will be on hand Friday and Bulldog officials are erecting temporary bleachers to help accommodate the crowd.

Picking the winner beforehand is a precarious occupation at best, but in a game of this type it's pure foolishness.

East Palestine, with speedy Harry McGahan at halfback and talented George Libert at end, is a devastating foe. So far the Bulldogs have ripped Leetonia 13-6, Sebring 15-0 and Salem 13-8.

In all three games the Bulldogs were impressive and held the upper hand most of the day, despite stiff opposition.

Bucher's Lisbon charges are more untied, but have been efficient in clipping three somewhat weaker foes. The Devils laced Chester, W. Va., 39-7, routed Minerva 33-0 and trounced Tri-County foe, Boardman, 26-6.

In all three showings the running of Halfback Roy Davies, the passing of needle-threading Allen Webber and the receiving of glue-fingered Felix Rutecki, have featured.

Both teams have potent passing attacks, with Lisbon's rated slightly the superior of the two. On pure power, East Palestine's big Joe Nolan, a 180-pound fullback, probably throws the weight to the Bulldogs in that department.

Possibility of a Palestine let-down after the surprise win over Salem is a worrisome feature to some prognosticators.

The Bulldog mentor, worried about the same psychological slip, said today that despite his team's victory last week, he feels the boys are in "tip-top" mental shape for the game.

Bucher has his problems too. Lisbon has had easy sailing so far and stomped over Boardman last week with surprising ease, rolling up a 20-0 score before the second frame was over.

Bucher expects a really tough time with East Palestine and feels that his charges fully realize what is coming.

In any case, it's a case of one of those ideal football games—one in which anything may and probably will happen!

The game is being billed as an all-important one in county circles, with only the two opponents and Columbiana still among the unbeaten ranks in the seven-team county title race.

Leetonia, East Liverpool, Wellsville and Salem have all taken it on the chin while the Bulldogs, Blue Devils and Columbiana Clippers are still in the thick of the battle for the mythical county championship.

In Tri-County competition the situation is very similar. All other Tri-County entries, except Lisbon, Palestine and Columbiana, have been beaten by league foes and it's a safe statement to say that one of the three will probably emerge champion there.

Columbiana figures to have an easy time Friday with Canfield at Columbiana.

Salem Team To See Pro Grid Tilt

Salem Boosters will meet at 8 tonight to complete plans for taking the Salem High school football squad and managers to the Cleveland-Brown Brooklyn Dodge pro football game in Cleveland Sunday.

The club plans a motor caravan to transport the team to Cleveland where the players will be seated in a special student section.

To date the club has 22 cars scheduled to make the trip and about five more are needed. Anyone interested in taking a carload of players to the game is asked to call Don Beattie or report at the meeting tonight.

A report on the ticket sale for the Oct. 19 "Army-Navy" benefit game here will also be heard at the meeting.

Still Winning!

Mather, Former Leetonia Bear Coach, Winning Hamilton Games

Coach Charlie Mather, former Leetonia High coach who is now head man at Hamilton High school, has been progressing well at his new assignment this season.

Mather's Big Blue outfit, with but seven days of practice, opened against a tough Dayton Fairview club and lost 7-0, despite three threats within Dayton's 10-yard line.

The following year, 1943, the Quakers rebounded to hand the Bears a 12-0 whipping, the only win in the series.

Leetonia's 1944 7-6 victory didn't help matters much as far as the Salem side of the ledger was concerned, but the 27-0 victory by Leetonia over Ben Barrett's outfit last season was extremely hard for Salem to absorb.

And so, after six years and with the No. 6 game just one day away, Salem has won one game, Leetonia three and one was a scoreless tie.

That's the background for all the football hysteria which sets both communities on their respective ears each year about this time.

This year the situation isn't improved any. Neither team has been spectacular, or even overly impressive in three games. Both have lost two and won a single game. But the desire to win this one is extreme on both sides.

Leetonia opened its season with a 13-6 loss to East Palestine while Salem meeting the Bulldogs last week lost 13-8—almost identical margins. The teams are nearly equal in weight, both in the backfield and on the line.

Leetonia's line hasn't been the wall of steel that 1945's was, but the Bear forwards this season haven't been tumbled over as yet, either.

Salem's line figured at the start of the season to be the weakest part of the team. Later game developments, however, have proved the point that it's Salem's line that is actually the strongest, with the weakness in the backfield.

Quaker forward men have been ripping gaping holes for the backs, but for some reason the backs have not been using the gaps.

PICKING WINNER A TOSS-UP AS PRE-GAME TENSION RISES

Figure as you will, picking the winner of the Salem-Leetonia football game at Reilly stadium Friday night is a proposition that is best left alone if you like to be right.

The safest thing to make your estimate on is the crowd. That will be about the only thing certain in the events of the evening as two of this county's most determined rivals meet in the sixth game of a series renewed back in 1941.

Since the modern series was revived, Leetonia has held the upper hand more times than Salem. That, in itself, is one of main reasons for the intense rivalry, the extremely large crowd and the extraordinary pre-game pressure.

Salem and Leetonia tied 0-0 back in 1941 in a post-season game on Thanksgiving day. The tie was a thorn in Leetonia's perfect season, while Salem's feeling was somewhat unconcerned, as the football year hadn't been too far here anyway.

The next year, however, Leetonia came back to Salem and picked the Quakers off by a neat 20-6 score. The following year, 1943, the Quakers rebounded to hand the Bears a 12-0 whipping, the only win in the series.

Leetonia's 1944 7-6 victory didn't help matters much as far as the Salem side of the ledger was concerned, but the 27-0 victory by Leetonia over Ben Barrett's outfit last season was extremely hard for Salem to absorb.

And so, after six years and with the No. 6 game just one day away, Salem has won one game, Leetonia three and one was a scoreless tie.

That's the background for all the football hysteria which sets both communities on their respective ears each year about this time.

This year the situation isn't improved any. Neither team has been spectacular, or even overly impressive in three games. Both have lost two and won a single game. But the desire to win this one is extreme on both sides.

Leetonia opened its season with a 13-6 loss to East Palestine while Salem meeting the Bulldogs last week lost 13-8—almost identical margins. The teams are nearly equal in weight, both in the backfield and on the line.

Leetonia's line hasn't been the wall of steel that 1945's was, but the Bear forwards this season haven't been tumbled over as yet, either.

Salem's line figured at the start of the season to be the weakest part of the team. Later game developments, however, have proved the point that it's Salem's line that is actually the strongest, with the weakness in the backfield.

Quaker forward men have been ripping gaping holes for the backs, but for some reason the backs have not been using the gaps.

On pass defense both teams are somewhat weak. On pass offense Leetonia probably has the nod in Quarterback Sammy Stumpo, a veteran from the 1945 outfit, who has been tossing them with agility and accuracy.

Big Jack White at center is probably Leetonia's most all-around effective batter. A devil at line backing and diagnosing the opposition's offense, White also functions effectively after passing the ball on the T.

The Salem line standouts so far have been Andy Parlonier, Tony Martinielli, Lee Sproat and End Jimmy Jensen.

Although Coach Barrett hasn't announced his starting men, Jensen seems a logical starter at right end, where he so effectively performed against East Palestine last week.

Barrett anticipates making changes in his backfield this week as compared to the quartet of Jimmy Laughlin, Eddie Bozich, Bob Hodge and Charles Franks, which started against East Palestine.

Franks may shift to right half, Tommy Miner come in at quarter, Lee Ward start at full and Walter Ehrhart take over the right half job. The change is not official yet, but practices have indicated that Barrett may be considering the shift.

Major shift expected from Coach Joe Fortunato is the one moving Jim Driscoll from tackle back into the fullback spot, replacing Al Stumpo, who will be shifted to halfback.

Although no word has come to that effect from Fortunato, the shift would not be a surprise. Coach Charles Mather, 1945 mentor, had planned to use Driscoll as back this year and gave him preliminary try-outs in competition at the close of the 45 season.

Driscoll is a huge, muscular 210-pound lad with a tremendous natural speed for his size. His pushing ability alone would make him a dangerous backfield man.

The shift this week, if it comes, may be necessitated by the absence of Bob Colajatz, starting halfback who cracked several ribs in the McDonald game last week and may not be in shape to play.

Faculty Manager Fred Cope expects a crowd of slightly over 6,000 Friday. Both High school bands will perform at halftime.

COLUMBIANA TO USE NEW LIGHTS FRIDAY

$13,000 System, Best In Area, To Be Used For Canfield Game

Unveiling of what is believed to be the most elaborate lighting system for night football in this part of Ohio, Columbiana High will tangle with Canfield at Firestone stadium, Columbiana, at 7:45 p. m. Friday.

Coach Johnny Cabas' pet little Clipper squad, blazing an enviable trail in district grid paths this season, looks as an easy victory over Canfield.

One of the largest crowds in Columbiana football history is scheduled to be on hand for the evening and a special effort is being made to provide temporary bleachers to accommodate some of the overflow fans.

The new $13,000 system includes the most powerful set of lights in use in this area. The all-metal poles, made in flute-like form, have no exterior wiring, all the cables being laid underground with the wires extending up through the center of the poles.

The entire unit, transformers and other equipment, is underground and enclosed in cement cases to protect it from moisture.

The purchase of the new system was made possible through arrangements brought about by the Columbiana Boosters club, the municipal officials and the Firestone park board.

From now on Columbiana officials anticipate an increase in football crowds by at least 50 per cent, as many persons who formerly were working at game time on Saturday afternoon, will now be able to attend.

The Clippers will tangle with Leetonia at Columbiana the following Friday in what should be another district top-notch. The two teams tied 0-0 in 1945.

Coach Cabas has indicated that he will use his same starting squad this week against Canfield, a foe which appears weak for the thrice-victorious Clipper eleven.

Cabas' squad, not expected to be too powerful when the season began, has surprised all on-lookers by breezing through three opponents with impressive ease. Canfield has dropped three straight this year.

Candied Breath
An expensive candy, in pill form, is used by actors in making moving pictures of winter scenes. The candy gives off a vapor when dissolving and thus simulates breath in wintry weather.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Bert Childers and the Melon Patch

Bert Childers put an ad in the Clarion the other day. Here's what it said:

"Planted more melons than I can eat this year. Stop by and pick as many as you want. All free."

As you can guess, plenty of folks sent their kids over and plenty of the parents came too. Stripped Bert's melon patch in no time. And as they went away, Bert treated the kids to lemonade, and offered the grownups a glass of ice-cold sparkling beer.

Naturally it puzzled some folks... but Bert explains: "It gives me a kick to share things when I can afford to—whether it's the melons, or the lemonade, or beer. I guess I just like to indulge my whims."

From where I sit, if we had more "self-indulgent" people like Bert—who believe in share and share alike, live and let live, this tired world would be a whole lot better off!
